It's Ball Night

Nearly two hundred senior students will dress up tonight, many in the theme of 1920s Paris, for the Annual College Ball. Pre-ball organisation starts at College at 5.45 pm. All students will travel to and from the Ball by bus and will be back at school by about 12.30 am.

Have a Great Night!

Our Sister School Visits

Fourteen students, two teachers and two parents from our sister school, Kisogawa Senior High School have been staying with us for ten days. Kisogawa is in Aichi prefecture near Nagoya. The students have been staying with Kaipara students. They have been attending some classes with their Kaipara buddies. They have also attended a Maori Studies class.

It's not all school work. They have visited the Zoo and the Museum to learn about local history and to watch the Maori Cultural Performance. Today it is Sheepworld to experience the skills of the sheep dogs and to learn about farming. They will spend the weekend with their homestays and return to a hot Japan on Monday.

Most of the Kisogawa students with former Kaipara student, Chris Horne, who studied at Kisogawa High School for a year and now teaches English at a Japanese University.

Brainjack by Brian Falkner

Alarm bells ring. His criminal skills make him a great government employee. His skills are better than the best. But it's him against the world. You will love this book if you are looking for an action packed thriller.
